P. Cloward, director of BYU Food Services, left, accepts honor award for food services of the Ernest Wilkinson Center. Richard Bystrom, president of the National Association of College and University Food Services, presents the Institution's Magazine award.

Wilkinson Center Services Wins National Award

national award for high level of food preparation and facilities has been won by Ernest L. Wilkinson Center. ONE OF 35 institutions as the nation's outstanding 19th annual food service program sponsored students Magazine. The award was accepted for the University of Wells P. Cloward, director of BYU Food Services. Presentation was made at the Chicago Hotel by a audience of more than 200 service designers, fabricators and manufacturers.

THE CENTER FACILITIES

opened in June 1961 and served 3300 persons a day. BYU Food Services under direction of Cloward also won the Institutions Magazine award in 1958 for the outstanding facilities of the Cannon Center.

Staff and faculty members of the Broadcast Services Division are studying how to use large screen television to overcome shortages of classrooms and teachers.

TO ASSIST THE researchers, a grant of $7948 has been awarded by the U.S. Office of Education to find the best means of using big picture TV when the plant and staff facility cannot be quickly expanded.

Dr. Owen S. Rich, associate professor of communications, will direct the group assisted by T. M. Williams, director of BYU Broadcast Services Division and Dr. Richard D. Poll, professor of history and political science.

BYU ALREADY has had one year of experience with the large screen television, but the new research will set up methods, guidelines and curriculum so the system can be readily adopted by other colleges and universities, according to Dr. Rich.

Dr. Rich said this project is not to be confused with the regular-size TV sets or the 9 by 12 foot Schmidt screen.

The classes use a huge 24 by 32 foot screen and Elidophor projector with high intensity light. DR. RICH COMMENTED that the research will develop techniques and equipment which most universities can adapt.

Summer Registration Set; 4428 Enroll First Day

Official count for summer school's first day registration totaled 4428, and there has been a steady stream of late registrations since then, according to Bill Sampson, of the Registration Department.

FINAL DATE FOR official registration is Wednesday, and late registration is currently being held in the Wilkinson Center.

Students are reminded that change-of-registration will begin Thursday morning in the Wilkinson Center.

THE LAST DAY a student may add or drop a class is Wednesday for the First Term, and July 28 for the Second Term.

A fee of $1 will be charged for each change-of-registration card processed after Monday for first Term, and July 28 for Second Term, according to Summer School Officials.

CHANGES IN REGISTRATION may be made only with the approval and signature of the instructor of the class and the dean of the student's major field. Official change-of-registration cards are obtained from the Office of Admissions and Records. After being properly signed, these cards must be turned in at A-133 ASB.

Instructors receive rolls of students in those classes two days after the final registration dates. A second roll is provided at the end of the third week.

STUDENTS WHOSE NAMES appear on these rolls or students for whom an add card has been received are officially registered; others are referred to the registration personnel at A-133 ASB.

Car Stickers Required For Summer

All students attending summer school classes must register their cars and properly display the registration stickers, according to BYU officials.

Most students registered their vehicles during class registration. Failure to register a car and display the sticker may subject a student to a fine of $5 and a 10 point penalty of from 40 to 80 points.

POINT PENALTIES and fines are also imposed for moving, nonmoving, pedestrian, parking, and other violations.

Certain serious offenses will carry mandatory revocation of a permit to drive on campus, continued university officials. When a driver has acquired 200 or more points, disciplinary action will be taken to suspend his driving privilege.

ACCORDING TO University regulations, "Students will be granted permits to park on the campus only when they present receipts from the University Cashier's Office showing that the correct parking fee has been paid."

Student parking permits are valid only in areas approved for student parking. Except where otherwise posted, the maximum speed limit on the campus is 20 miles per hour.

PEDESTRIANS IN crosswalks have the right of way, and parking regulations are in effect twenty four hours a day.

All fines must be paid at the Office of the University Cashier within one week, or an additional $2 penalty will be added.

Dance, Movie Top Agenda

Weekend entertainment for BYU students will include a movie "The Great Locomotive Chase," plus three Walt Disney cartoons, according to ASB officials.

These will be presented Friday at 8 p.m. on the quad between the McKay bldg. and Eyring Science Center.

A RECORD HOP will be held in the Wilkinson Center main ballroom at 9 p.m.

Acad dress will be school clothes. Admission will be activity card and 25 cents.

In case of rain, the movie will be held in the Wilkinson Center Ballroom. If held on the quad, students should bring something to sit on, said committee members.

SATURDAY, a second dance will be held in the ballroom.

'Sleep of Prisoners'...

Drama Dept. To Present Play

WRITTEN BY CHRISTOPHER FRAY, the play re-examines some age old questions such as "What is the truth of man? What is difference? What is conflict?"

The four men imprisoned in the church represent different aspects of human character. They are first seen as they appear on the surface to each other. Then each is seen through the sleep ing thoughts of the others. Each, in his own dream, speaks as at heart he is, not as he believes himself to be.

THE CAST of the play is made up of the following men: Neal Barlow, John Adams, Brian Rawlings and Bowen Miles.

Designer, for the production is Charles Hansen; technical Robert Strathairn; and costumes, Bever ly Warner.

SINCE THE PLAY is continuous action there will be no breaks, but will continue full run. The entire production will last about one hour and fifteen minutes.

Because recordings will be made of each presentation, it is theatre policy that no children under 5 years old be allowed to attend the presentations.

SEASON TICKETS for the three summer productions are being offered at a savings over individual tickets. Reservations and tickets may be obtained from the Hays Fine Arts Center Ticket Office.

A season ticket for all three plays sells for $3, individual performance tickets sell for $1.50. Full-time summer school students will be admitted by activity card.

OTHER PLAYS TO BE presented during the summer seasons are "The Male Animal," and "Dear Mr. The Sky is Falling."

In addition to the regular nightly performances, a matinee will be held on the afternoon of the 23 at 2:15 p.m.

BETTINA APTEKER has inherited Mario Savio's role as chief spokesman for the Free Speech Movement, now regrouping as the Free Student Union. Miss Apteker told the Times that she was a "revolutionary socialist and a Marxist." Asked if she were a member of the Communist Party she answered, saying that a truthful reply could make her subject to prosecution under the Smith and McCarran Acts.

MISS APTEKER claims to have signed up 2,000 members for the Free Student Union, and she hopes soon to have 10,000 adherents.

She disclosed that the newest weapon will be the student strike. "We will say to the Board of Regents," she said, "either you give in or we strike."

Busy Cougar Tracksters Face Biggest Test Yet

The tightest struggle in many years is forecast for the NCAA track and field meet in Berkeley, Calif., this weekend, and BYU's teams are given an outside chance at the title.

A 13-MAN SQUAD from Brigham Young University left Salt Lake City Tuesday. They will be on hand for the trials in the three-day meet which gets underway Thursday.

There's no clear-cut power house in this year's meet," said Coach Clarence Robinson before Tuesday's takeoff. "Nobody stands out above the group as in years past, and any of several teams could win it."

IN HIS OWN THINKING, Robinson is inclined to regard Oregon, last year's champion, as among the chief contenders. Other schools that should figure in the outcome include USC, San Jose State, Stanford, New Mexico and North Carolina College.

BYU's chances at the title have been lessened by the fact that Bob Tobler, last year's NCAA 100-m. champion, will not be participating for the Cougars. Tobler is not eligible since he competed as a freshman. Tobler's place on the Cougar mile relay team will be taken by sprinter Ralph Turner.

EARLIER THIS SEASON the Cougars defeated California and Oregon State in dual meets at Berkeley. BYU went on to win the West Coast Relay, Colorado and Fresno.

The tetrahedral Anvil Press (diamond machine), designed by Dr. H. Tracy Hall, of the BYU Research Dept. is shown

Research Shop A Campus Hide-Away

by Alan Jensen
Universe Staff Writer

The BYU Research Shop is one of the least known, yet most intriguing areas on campus. Located south of the Fletcher Engineering Bldg., the compact metal structure is packed full of equipment of seemingly every size and description.

Through a series of expansions, the shop has grown from its original 1959 size of 20 feet x 20 feet to its present dimensions of 20 x 100. Shop Supervisor Fred Childs is looking forward to the construction of a new, larger brick building, which has been designed to allow further expansion.

The purpose of the intriguing shop is to build or otherwise provide special equipment for research in the various departments of the university.

Some of the more extensive projects undertaken by the shop are the Tetrahedral Anvil Press, which translated into laymen's language means Dr. Tracy Hall's diamond machines.

For those unfamiliar with the history of Dr. Hall's invention, it would be interesting to know that after being graduated from the University of Utah in 1948 with a doctorate in chemistry, the fourth Ph.D. to be granted by that institution, Dr. Hall was employed by General Electric. He then became engaged in research which led him to design, in 1953, a high pressure apparatus which had the ability to produce diamonds through the use of high pressure and temperatures.

Since secrecy to the scientist is anathema, Dr. Hall in 1955 left the company and came to BYU as Director of Research and Professor of Chemistry.

Here he resumed his work, and at the suggestion of friends, set out to lick his problem with a second machine, different enough also be patentable, yet with the same capabilities as the first. The completion of his project in 1957 resulted in the Tetrahedral Anvil Press, capable of producing in a space less than 1/100 of a cubic inch, temperatures up to 7,000 degrees centigrade and pressure of up to two-and-one-half million pounds per square inch.

Since 1959, four additional presses of improved design have been constructed in the shop, three for Dr. Hall and one for Dr. Forrest Smouse of the Geology Department.

According to Fred Childs, shop supervisor, with the equipment the shop has, "we are becoming capable of turning and grinding the hardest steels and materials available."

Before receiving the new and surplus equipment now in the shop, it took a crew of 15 men to handle the work load. At present, Childs and his two assistants Ed Dittman, a student in tool manufacturing and Jim Hoen, Mechanical Engineering, turn out all necessary orders of work. A second interesting project undertaken was the construction of the loudspeakers for the production "Sand in Their Shoes" and the speakers for the Hill Cumorah Pageant. The latter measure seven feet square and 10 1/2 feet long.

Childs also recounts having constructed a 60 foot supersonic wind tunnel, projects for radar, micro-wave and laser beam research.

Modifications have been made on the special zoom lens used by the KBYU-TV. A solar furnace, and a unique water bath for bottle racks for the chemistry department have been built in addition to seemingly countless other projects, said Childs.

As an interesting sidelight sandwiched into the array of technical and scientific equipment at the shop is situated unobtrusively in Childs' office - his filing cabinet with four drawers labeled Ernie, Meenie, Minnie and Moe, respectively.

New Deadline Set By AFROTC

Application deadline for the new two-year Air Force Reserve Officer's Training Program has been extended to July 1, according to Lt. Col. Paul H. Sharp, BYU professor of aerospace studies.

Completion of the two-year program will qualify college graduates for the same reserve commission as second lieutenants now tendered four-year graduates.

THE PROGRAM will qualify college men with two years or more remaining and will also allow men students currently enrolled in post-graduate programs to be eligible, Col. Sharp pointed out.

Cadets in the two-year program will attend a session of summer camp at an Air Force Base, and advanced AFROTC cadets will receive $60 a month in addition to uniforms and textbooks.

BYU Professor Gets Grants

Heber J. Wolsey, assistant professor of communications at BYU, has received assistantships totaling about $6,000 to set up courses in radio and television advertising at Michigan State University.

SINCE JOINING the BYU faculty in 1963 Prof. Wolsey has taught such courses at BYU in addition to other advertising and public relations classes in the BYU department of communications.

He also took with his doctorate in mass communications at MSU.

BEFORE COMING to BYU he served as vice president of Gilman Advertising Agency as radio and television advertising director. Prior to his position with the Gilman Agency he was executive secretary of the KSL radio and television corporation.
